Washington High School's building from the 1920's.

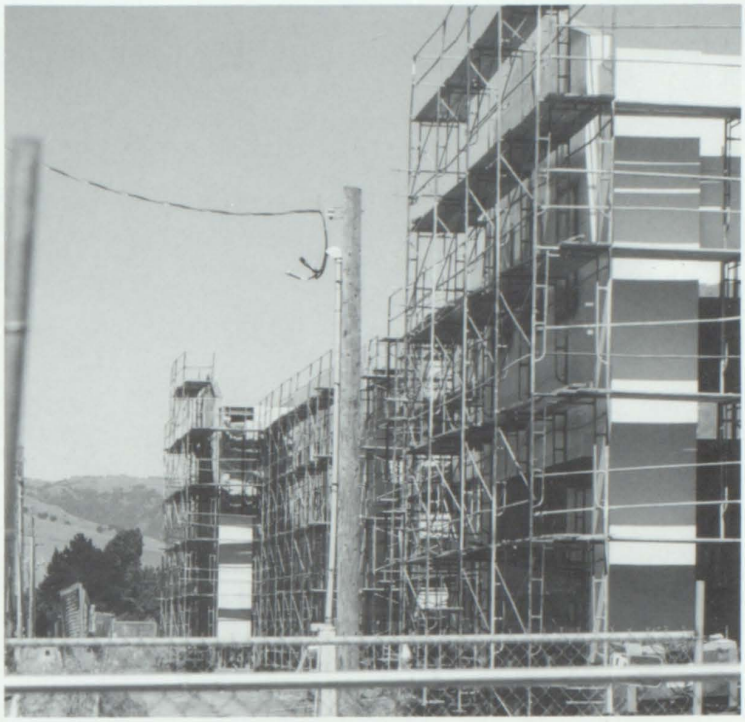

The Alma Mater

To thee our Alma Mater
our hearts will ere turn back.
We rally 'round the banner,
the orange and the black.
The light of truth and knowledge forever will prevail.
Oh, Washington we love you,
all hail.
ALL HAIL!

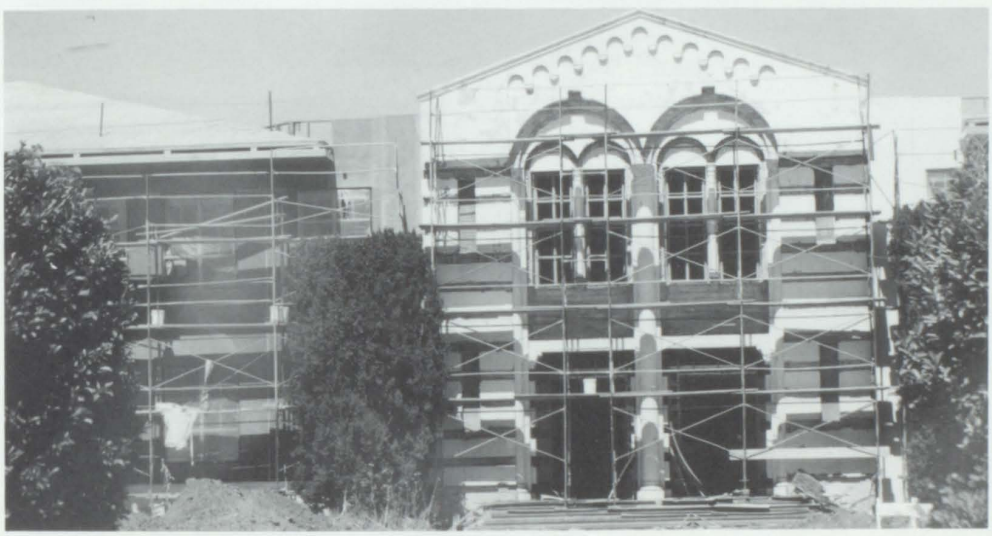

preparing for the next century...

"A New Beginning" for Washington High School.

The building on the Eggers side.

The construction begins with restoring the historical arch.

Does this hallway look familiar?

The students of the past, come to celebrate the opening of the school.

6 Cutting of the Ribbon ACTIVITIES

From warm summer days to the wet El Niño season, students still found time to participate in Spirit Week, Dances, and School Activities.

46 Building Blocks ACADEMICS

At the crack of dawn, the alarm clock goes off and your arm reaches across to find the familiar snooze button. You wish for a while that you can freeze time, but you rush to school hoping to make it on time and go through your six classes. This may be a usual day, but we have also experienced those late night studying and stress that comes with our classes.

74 Building a Strong Foundation CLUBS

Aside from hitting the books, students find time to participate in clubs and government. There are a variety of clubs available to fit the needs of the students. Not only can students be involved in clubs, but also in government.

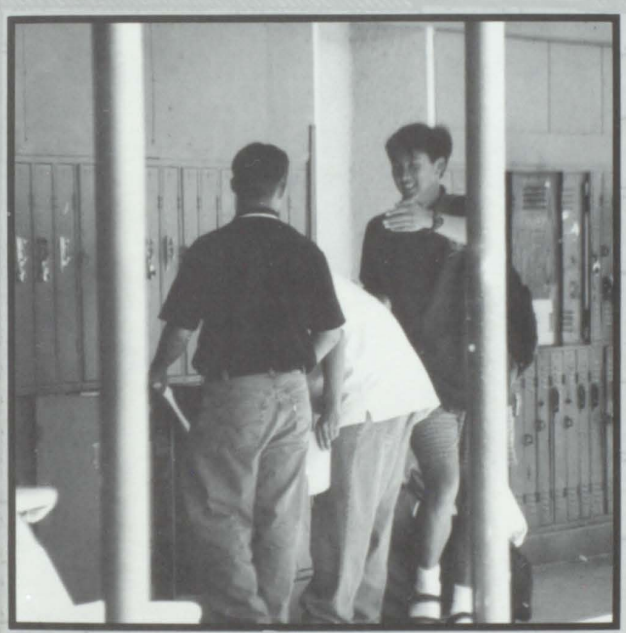

Setting Up the Supports SPORTS 98

Whether it's pride or the unique bond that is created between team players, it is what attracts students to play on the teams. You give it your all and together, as a team, go after the same goal ... defeat the opponents!

Painting Memories PORTRAITS 152

Now it's time to look back into the past year. Check out the portraits of your buddies and hopefully they will fill your head with happy memories.

Dedications 210

Surprise!!! Dedications, dedications and more dedications. Don't miss out on the messages dedicated for you or from you. Parents also made their special wishes to their favorite Graduate. Seniors ... Congratulations!

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

When these Huskies Signed up for Leadership camp, they were treated like royalty from Washington High School to the University of Santa Barbara. The Limousine was an added extra comfort to help ease the pain of a long five to six hour drive. As you can see, Biji John had an extremely fun time.

Alexis Alanzo rides the Magical Ciajur

Roman, Erika, Andrea, and Chuck climbed Mt. Whitney.

Christina straddles her horse, Trixie.

Tim Snelson went on a missionary trip to South Africa

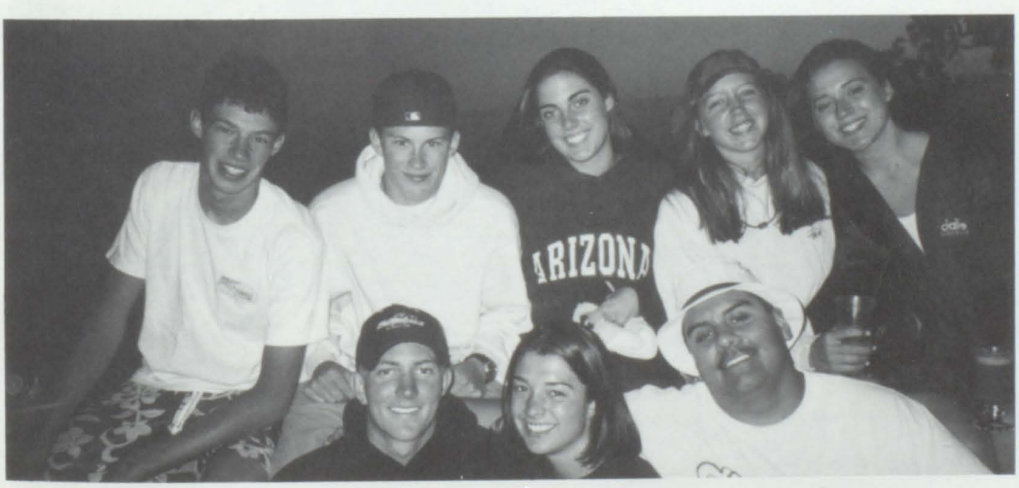

Chris Hadlock, Kelly Hadlock, and Heather Wilson went to Lake Tahoe for a little water skiing.

Alex Rohrig and Roger Mihalko spent their summers surfing the west coast.

Alexis Alonzo and her horse, Magical Ciajur, at the 26th Annual Arabian Horse Show.

Ryan Briar, Tony Modica, Erin Jones, Jill Klug, Wendy Parker, Sean Holden, Kim Pinto, and Mike Rojas camping at Big Sur on July 4th.

The students of Washington High School during the summer are free and have the opportunity to do anything they please after a hard and stressing year of school. Many students go camping, some go surfing, others playing certain sports in leagues, and a few go on vacations. Most students, though, try to make some money by looking for summer jobs. Some students such as Tim Snelson go on missionaries to different parts of the country and help the less fortunate. Other people took time to surf the sunsets of the beaches or learn the leadership roles necessary for the student faculty down in Santa Barbara. Summertime is your time. Washingtonian summertime is always full of excitement. What Washington High School students do in the summer are always interesting and worth while.

EL NIÑO '98

One of the highlights of this year was the long awaited completion and grand opening for the new school. Finally, students were able to see what the next generation of Huskies will have to use for many years to come. Their experiences and perspectives throughout the year were different from each other, but what everyone will remember is El Niño. What everyone can agree on is that this year has been plagued with bad weather, cloudy dark skies, and rainy days. Although there were no casualties, school days became more unpleasant as the weather kept the students running from class to class, and lunch times were spent indoors, thus limiting the social interactions of students, unlike you would see on a sunny day. Instead of seeing congregation of many groups in the courtyards and hallways talking and "mixing" during the brunch and lunch time, you would see few scattered groups along the floors of the gym, safe from the harsh winds and wet rain. Although El Niño challenged us with its winds, floods and storms, we managed to go through it all and come out in one piece with the casualty being only broken umbrellas.

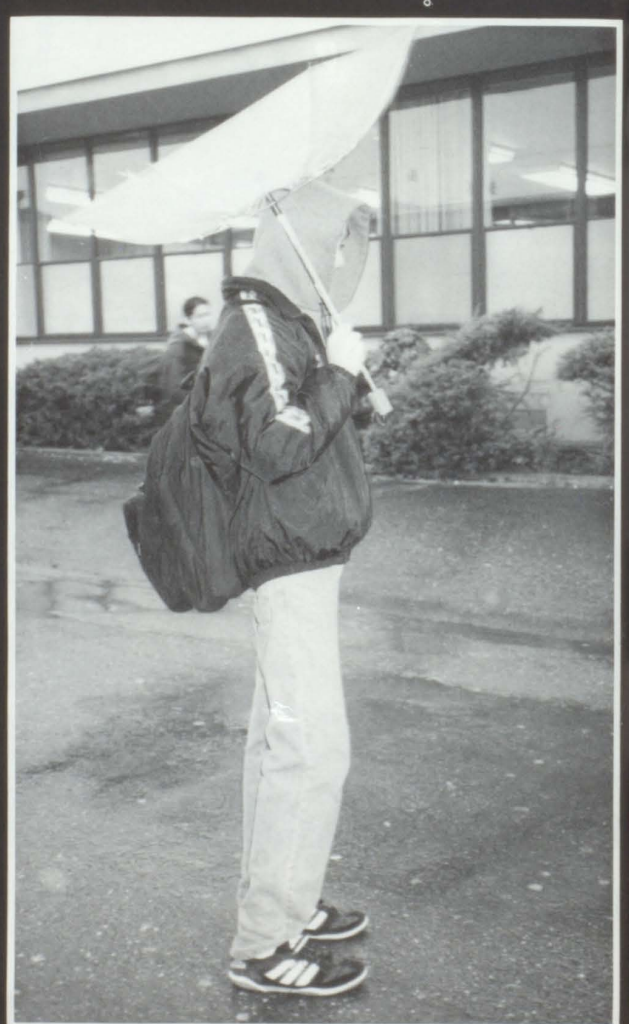

These guys didn't let El Niño interrupt their game of table soccer.

Pools of water surrounded the walkways of the new building.

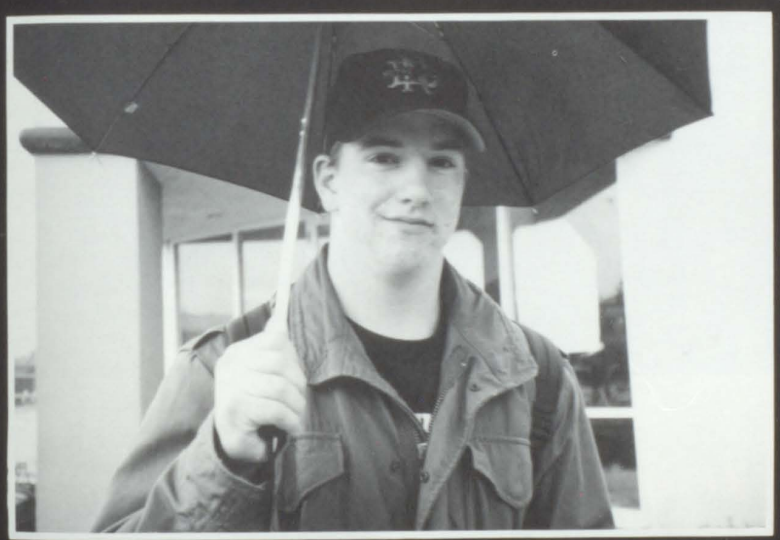

William Uhlig was trying to figure out which way the wind was blowing. Obviously, he did.

Kenneth Howe … thanks for sharing the umbrella with me.

"Oh, I don't like the rain. I's ruining my hair. Eeewwwhhh … I'm getting wet! 'I'm singing in the rain … '"

Lake Husky was formed in the fields.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

"serving time..."

In fall of '97, the opportunity to volunteer to be science camp counselors for Niles Elementary School's sixth graders came about. The roles and responsibilities the counselors (Jill Klug, Mile Kim, Stacie Moura, Eric Sandoval, Shasta Emerick, and Kim Pinto) took on were much more tiring than expected. It was definitely a challenge & aggravating at times, but it would be an experience they'll never forget.

While sugar plums danced in people's heads, some WHS students went out of their busy shopping schedules to volunteer during the season. Patty Boyce and Mujitaba Ali, along with other students, helped wrap presents for customers. Not only did they feel that fuzzy, warm feeling you usually get when you help someone, but they also learned the true meaning of the holiday season.

The Holiday Season gave an opportunity for people to warm up their singing voices and participate in a Christmas Carol to raise money for the Children's Center Medical Foundation. "La-la-la-la-la-la," could be heard through the streets of Glenmmor and their angelic voices brought joy to people in the neighborhood.

These WHS students huddle together to keep warm on a chilly night to sing Christmas Carols. Keep singing you guys!

FRESHMEN

Look out everyone! Here comes Hank and Hannah dancing along with the music!

Groovy Freshmen show their spirit on Hippie day.

The raging Freshmen stand up, sit down, and fight, fight, fight for their class!

These cheerleaders are patiently waiting for the music to start.

The Freshmen show their spirit on orange and black day!

The new mighty class of 2001 had really showed off their Washington husky spirit, as they started off spirit week with a totally groovy hippie day. Then the following day, the Frosh had dressed on beach day and on that afternoon they had presented their spectacular "Gilligan's Island" skit. With all of Washington High School students surrounding them, they had really showed the crowd how much spirit they had in them and proved that they were unstoppable! Then they had finished off the rest of the busy week wearing Jerseys on Wednesday and dressed as Hicks on Thursday! As they rallied, cheered and paraded around the entire school with loads and loads of spirit on Friday, they wore orange and black along with all the Washington Huskies! Even throughout the hard work and effort, the Courageous Freshmen were finally announced third place during the night of the Homecoming game. Great Job Freshmen!!!

On Freshmen skit day the Village Girls groove to the music.

Watch out Hulk Hogan, here come the Freshmen!

Class of 2000 show off their spirit.

These girls strike a pose in their skit.

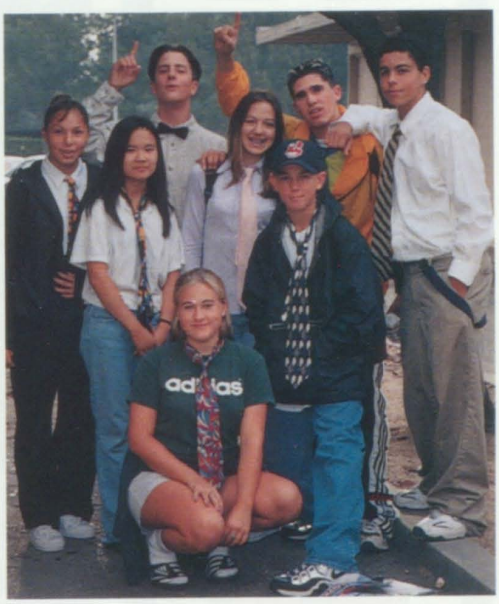

The sophomores started off Spirit Week rolling off straight from their beds without bothering to take a shower or brush their teeth and going to school to show us their spirit on P.J. Day. On Tuesday, the day of their skit, the sophomores came in loud and clear on Radio Station 2000 F.M. As girls and guys strutted their stuff in the skit, the rest of the Class of 2000 fully supported and cheered for their classmates. Wednesday came with a lot of confusion for the sophomores as the Class of 2000 dressed up for Inside-Out Day. These sophomores showed that they could be a little weird. The next day the Class of 2000 had a chance to dress and to impress the rest of the school on Formal Day; as ladies in beautiful and enchanting dresses dazzled the Gentlemen's Quarrel. These gentlemen also tried to impress the young ladies with their suits and ties. To finish off Spirit Week, the Class of 2000 united with the rest of the Huskies on Orange and Black Day. Way to go double O!

Sophomores showing their spirit and full support for their class skit.

JUNIORS

The Juniors show that they're #1 in Spirit.

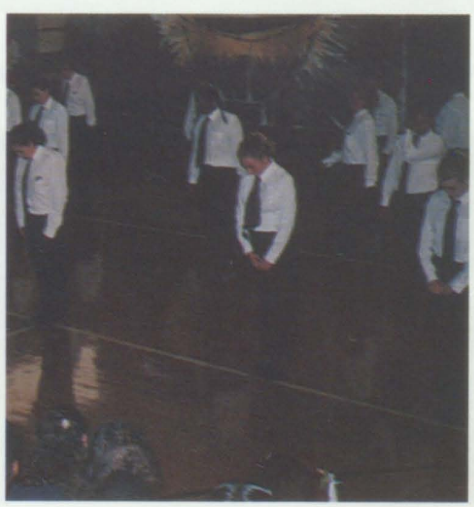

The class of '99 show their stuff.

Diana is getting carried away with Spirit Week this year.

"We should win with these socks!"

It's all about the class of '99 in Hawaii.

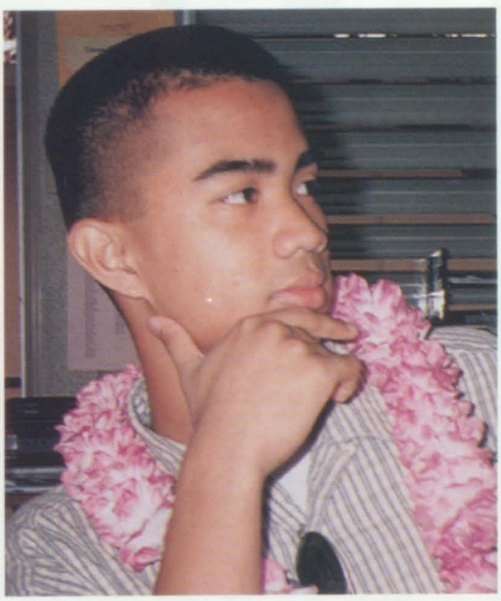

The Juniors started off the week with their skit about Men In Black. The majority of the class was involved, and it turned out to be extremely successful. Their first dress up day was Mafia Day. It was perfect, because it fit right into the Men In Black theme. Next, they hula-ed their way into Hawaiian Day. Although that day wasn't the warmest day of the year, they dressed as if they came straight from the beach. On Wednesday, the 80's brake dancers busted out their moves on cardboard. Thursday, they dressed in sheets for Toga Day. On this day, they carried their class president (Diana Cango) to the Senior skit at lunch. Lastly, the class of '99 joined the rest of the school in wearing their orange and black on Friday.

In the end, the Juniors came in second place. They were a very loud and spirited class this year. They showed that they have unity, and deserve a lot of credit for their time and effort.

Go Class Of 1999!!

The way girls dressed in the 80's ...

Football games attract herds of men.

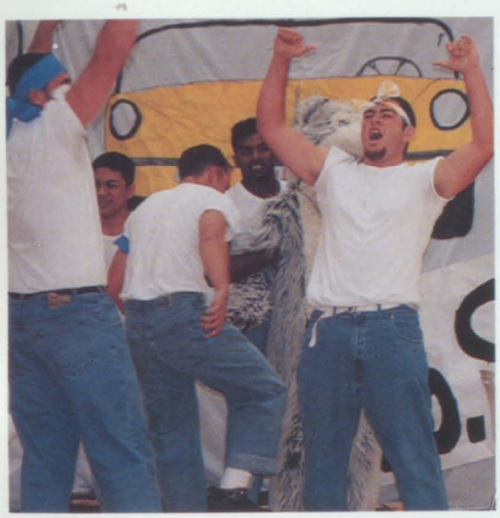

Victory is sweet, especially when you are a senior.

Congratulations class of '98! Your enthusiasm and spirit put us on top this year! Never before have we been so united as a class. We've heard rumors that our lunchtime production of grease was the best some have seen in a long time! Way to go seniors!

We started out the week as soldiers defending our spirit! 60's/70's day was groovin' as we went back to the era of bell bottoms and afros, clogs and platforms. Wednesday we roamed around the halls to "Da, da, da" snorting and chanting class of 98! We made great nerds! On Thursday, we came together and performed the best skit Washington High has ever seen. On Friday, we united with the rest of the school wearing Orange and Black.

In the words of the finale of Grease, "we will always be together!"

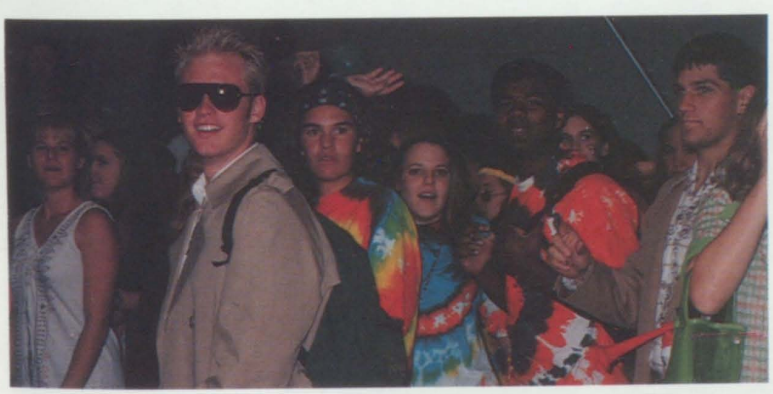

What a man ... What a man ... What a man!

During half time of our homecoming game against Newark Memorial, the bleachers were screaming with eager and excited Huskies waiting for the show to begin. The results of spirit week were predictable for some and very disappointing for others. In last place were the Sophomores, in third were the Freshman, and at second for the third year in a row, the Juniors, and in first, who else but the Seniors. As for the lucky lady to be crowned Homecoming Queen, the results were: runner ups Brittany Walker, Shashi Chittle, Megan Walton, Kim Pinto, and W.H.S. 1997 homecoming Queen Ashley Bodily. To top off the night, our football team didn't let us down, coming back for the winning score of 26 to 22.

The students marched out one by one, each holding a nation's flag. The gym was filled with the very catchy tune of "Around the World," a very appropriate song for the occasion. Along with the marchers, the flags danced to the music, their colors meshing together forming our world's flag---a colorful quilt.

After the flag ceremonies we saw a step team and a team of Brazilian martial artists. At lunch we saw Afghan, Flamenco, and Indian dancers. On Wednesday we were able to taste the foods of the world and on Thursday our students strutted their stuff during the lunch time fashion show. This week exposed the students to new ideas and thoughts on other cultures. Even though the week is over, our minds will remember the respect that they learned for other people's nations.

MATH

Washington offers a variety of different math classes, allowing for students to broaden their minds. After fifty minutes of lectures, most people can hardly wait for the bell that frees them, but others who think of math not only as a great subject stick around during their lunch break to take the CAML. But to the students here at Washington it is a required class that can bring a lot of stress during the finals. Overall math is full of surprises that are lurking on the next page.

Poe, Shakespeare, Homer, Twain, Steinbeck, and Orwell are just some of the writers, poets, and legends we will come across in the four required years of English. Whether you read the book or the cliff notes you get the same idea of what our ancestors had to say. Besides reading there were always quizzes, essays vocabulary, compositions, quotations, and tests to last a lifetime. Lectures lead the number one favorite past-time for teachers with the second favorite being homework. English is both interesting and a challenging subject.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

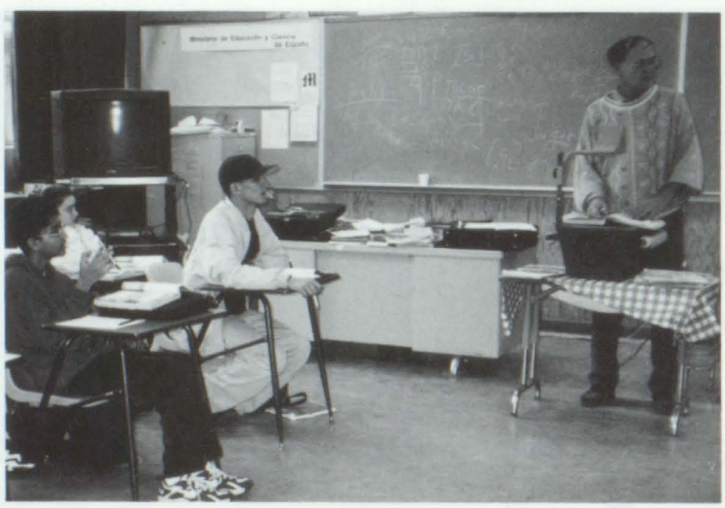

So, thinking about taking a trip to France? How about Spain or Germany? Well, you might consider taking foreign language before you go. Here students get to choose from Spanish, French or German. Washington has a great foreign language department. In these classes the teachers help you with all your problems. It also offers oral class presentations, which helps your fluency. You also get to learn a whole new culture. Learning another culture's ethics will help you understand the various races that the U.S. has.

FOODS

You know that scent of freshly baked bread or cookies that lingers around the office of Washington High School? Well, it's all because of the Foods class. In this class, it's expected of you to make a mess and eat all period. Maybe that's why most people choose this for one of their electives. Here, students learn how to read and follow recipes. These skills will help them to one day cook for themselves. They learn to make all sorts of simple dishes ranging from eggs to muffins, and appetizers to desserts.

Sure the procedure to perform CPR might look funny, but Health students know the importance of the ABC's-Airway, Breathing and Circulation. You must not forget the importance of shaking and shouting before you perform the actual procedure. As a Freshmen, every student is required to take Health. It is a graduation requirement, so there is no way one can get out of the class. Students learn about a variety of topics-Nutrition, Drugs, First Aid, Sex Ed. and CPR. Health also helps students learn more physical and mental health.

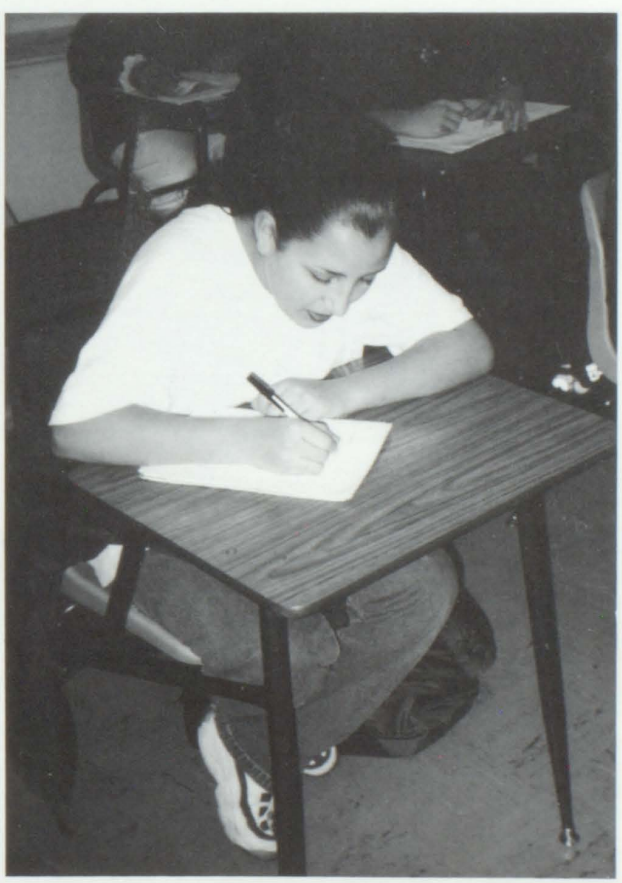

"I love this class!" exclaims Aaron Reinhart.

AUTOMOTIVES CLASS

Mr. Wheeler, the Auto Shop Teacher

Even girls know about cars. Jacqueline is cool!!

Auto is a class that occurs everyday. Students need to know how to buy and maintain a car. The students of Auto shop build confidence and pride in knowing how to properly inspect a used car. Also, they learned how to safely maintain and service their car. This knowledge of car repairs and maintenance would greatly reduce the cost of operating a car in future situations.

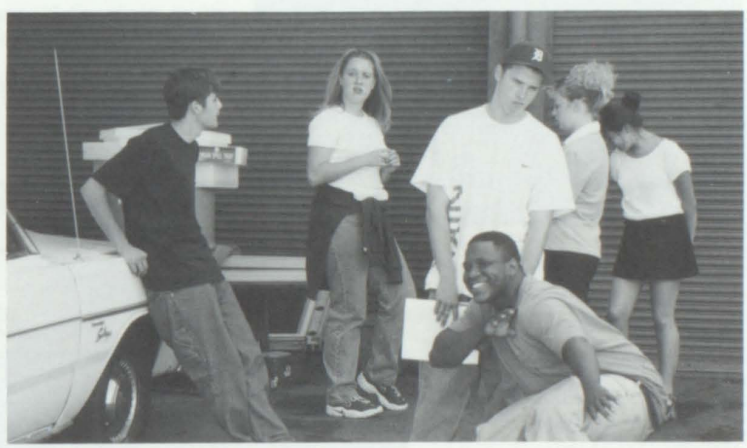

The goal for students in this class was to develop safe mechanical skills. Mr. Wheeler, the teacher, enjoys his experiences with the maintenance of cars during the 1997-1998 school year.

Beginning Choir

The Washington High School choir has grown immensely. The people in choir range from students that have never sung a note in their lives to students who have been in choir for years. Choir is not just singing church songs, but songs ranging from Jazz to Classical. During class, students learn to sing scales and also ready music. Choir does local productions including our talent show here at school. Choir also appears in the all city choir. If you've been singing with the radio, maybe you would be a good candidate for this group.

What a piece of artwork.

ART

Think art is for artistic people only? Think again! In art you learn from being a basic doodler to an artist. In this class you draw, paint, sketch, and make clay figurines. The basics of design and composition are studied. This includes line, shape, form, texture, and color. It may help that you are artistically inclined, but this class helps you develop your skill. In this class, you can let your imagination and expression go wild. You can be whoever you want to be in this class because no one can judge you.

PHOTOGRAPHY

What a nice profile Mr. Ficken has.

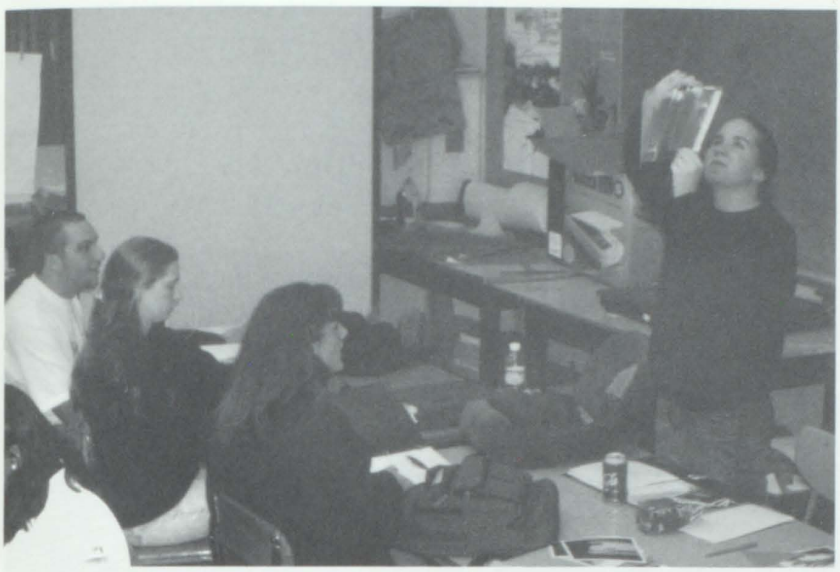

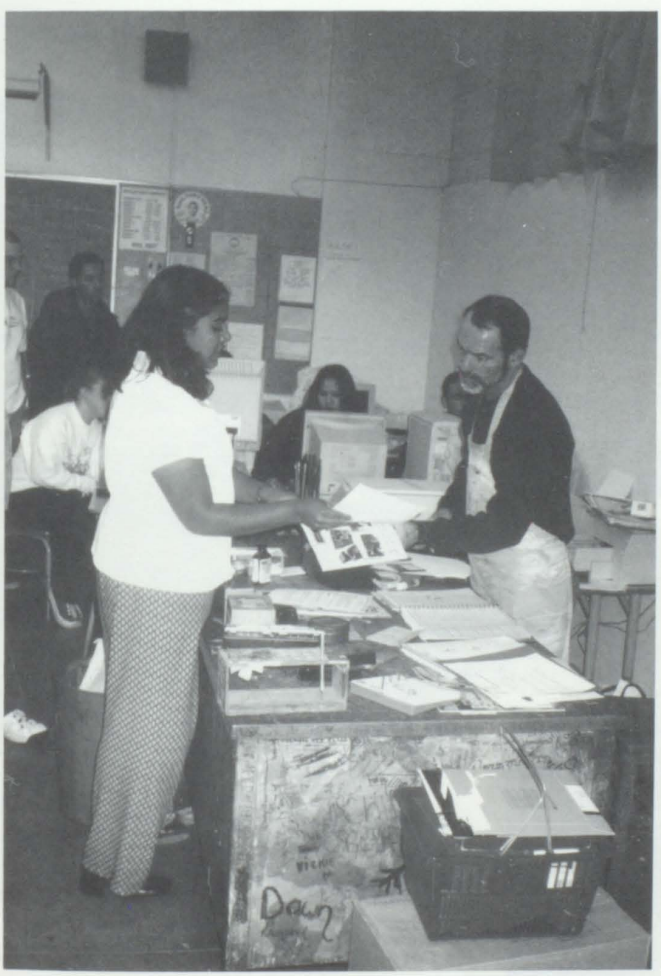

Photo is a very interesting class to take that doesn't only teach you a lot, but is fun as well. Students learn how to make their own cameras from scratch, develop their own pictures and get magazine ink to stick to contact paper. Photo is important because something as simple as a picture can make or break a newspaper, magazine, or even a family event. One thing you'll learn in this class is that life is just one big composition that can have many many steps and instructions to follow in order to complete, but all in all when you've accomplished your goals, projects or what have you, the class is one well worth taking.

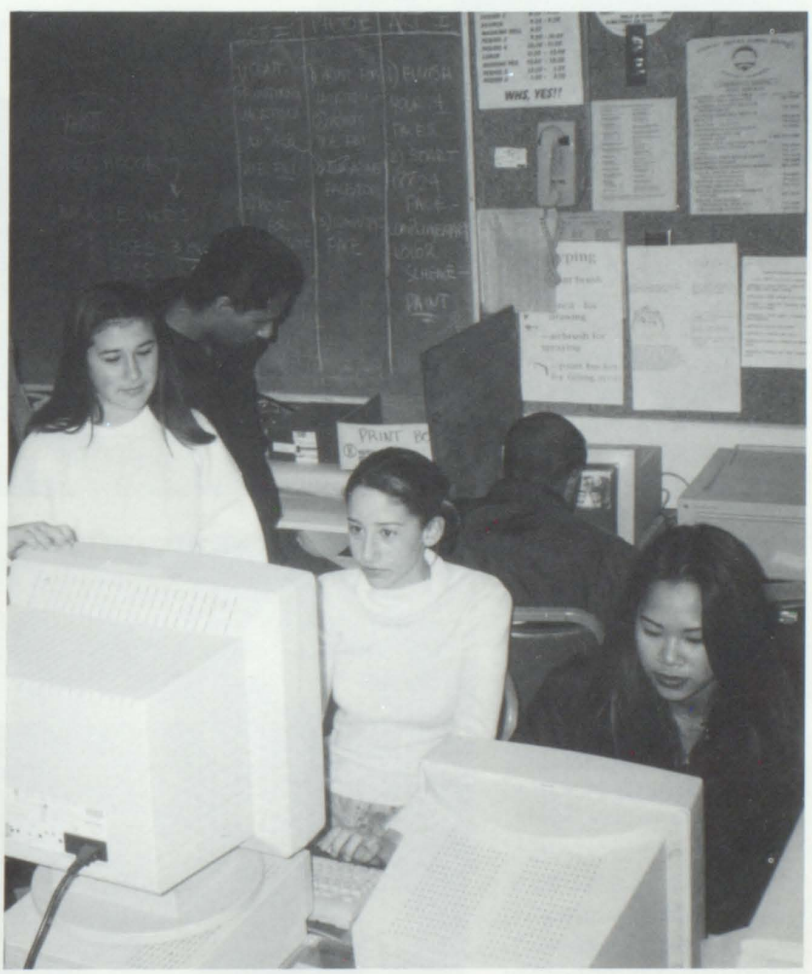

Kirsten Voak wonders why Carissa Bergman seems so interested in her negatives.

Mr. Ficken appears to be all bright eyes and bushy tailed for his photo class coming in.

Shanthi tries to bribe Mr. Ficken into bumping up her grade just a tad.

Katrina, Natalie, and Hang seem to be very interested in touching up some of their work.

The Washingtonian Staff showed their hard work and determination once more on making the 1997-1998 yearbook. The effort of the editors with nudges here and there from the advisor Mr. Brower, gave the group an incentive to make this year's yearbook special. Though times were sometimes difficult all managed to pull. The experience of putting this yearbook was both fun and exhausting; we hope this '97-'98 "Washingtonian" breathes life back into past joyous moments. May you enjoy it as much as we did bringing it to you.

Carissa works quickly to get her layout done on time.

Whether it's typing, writing, printing, delivering, or publishing. Journalism is never late in informing Washington High School students Washingtonians are always the first priority for the journalism class in letting them know the latest activities and hottest issues around campus. The wonderful reporters and photographers of journalism cram every week to publish our awesome school newspaper the Hatchet. If you want to know what's up, read the Hatchet! If you feel lost and don't know what to do, have no fear, journalism class is here!

DRAMATIC ARTS

Drama is a performance and a production class designed for students who are serious about acting. Many of them are involved in outreach programs, community services, children's theatre, comedy sports and the CSUH Shakespeare Festival. All of them competed in the Ohlone High school Theatre Festival, where they won 9 trophies last year. Next year, some of these students will advance to their fifth year of drama, in which they will produce one-act and full-length plays. Now, we need a theatre to showcase our talent!

ASB officers: Biji John (president), Jewelyn Almazan (vice-president), Mark Mekaru (Treasurer), Clarisse Mesa (Secretary)

Late nights, early mornings, hair pulling, head-desk bumping, douh-ing, yelling, screaming, worrying, stressing. Yes Washington, you caused it all, but we still have to say, "WE LOVE YOU!" During our lives as ASB officers, we learned to live with stress, TONS OF IT ... and for what? Til this day, we still have no phreakin idea. Perhaps it was the challenge. Perhaps it was our pride for the school. Perhaps it was because we wanted to make a difference. Perhaps it was because we were CRAZY! Well, whatever the reason, no matter how stressed we were at times, we could now look back and remember all the fun times we had: Hank's Construction Crew, those fun-filled council meetings, clowning on Biji, giving up lunchtimes for mtgs., getting out of class??? ... did we mention clowning on Biji?, spending a night in school, riding a limo to Santa Barbara, and dancing to MIB. Aaaah ... the memories. + sniffle + Well WHS, we must say that we had a fabulous time rocking your world. BIJ, JEWELS, MARCOS, and CREASE

THANX Mr. Man, Mrs. Jung, Mr. Martin, and everyone who helped out, especially the student body. W/o you guys, where would we be?

Adam seems pleasantly unaware of the serious strategies being discussed by John, Mr. Vargas, and Jim on the BART ride to the competition.

Mock Trial is a competition between various high schools for those with interests in our judicial system. It offers students a chance to act as lawyers, judges, and even bailiffs. The students receive the details of that year's case and must practice both prosecution and defense strategies as they won't know which side they'll be asked to present. This year, WHS' second in competition, the team was open to both juniors and seniors. We had a slow start, only earning 18 points to our opponent's 27 in our first go-round. However, the Mock Trial team is very determined to surpass the finish of last year's team. It's a whole lot of fun ... so get out your gavels and get ready for next year!

Than You'd Expect

What is A.C.A.? A.C.A. is defined as Asian Cultural Association, and it opens up a window for understanding Asian culture and tradition. It's open for all races, no color barriers; all you have to have is an open mind. This year they had a picnic in Lake Elizabeth. They also went to San Francisco for a field trip. While they were there they visited Chinatown and the Asian Art Museum. This club is led by Mrs. Darknell, and she goes wherever the group goes. This is a fun club, so if I were you, I would join.

They are then able to help students on a one-on-one basis regarding various problems. Peer counselors sponsors community activities and represent Washington High School in the D.A.R.E program for elementary students. Because of it's statewide connections, members can further their training. In addition, members are called upon to welcome new students to facilitate their transition to Washington.

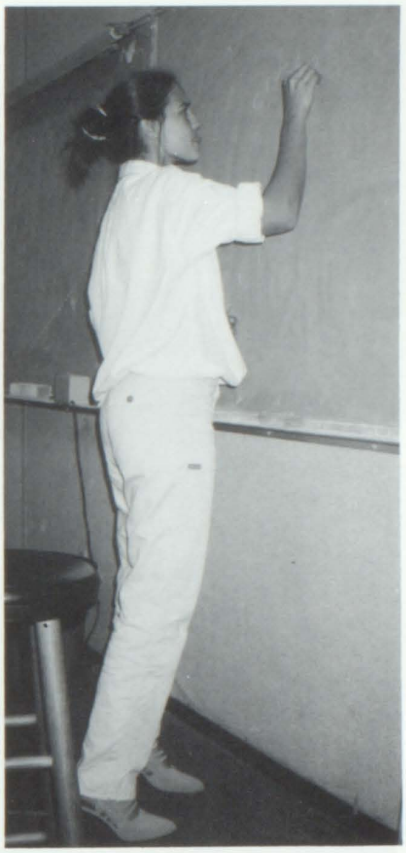

BONJOUR!

Bonjour! Parlez vous francais? (Hi! Do you speak French?) No need to worry if you're in the French Club. The students who participate in this club are able to learn the French culture and their characteristics of their way of living. Joining this club means being closer to French culture. They are also able to go to exciting field trips like being able to see the Phantom of the Opera. So for all you students who would want to join and have a good time, don't be shy, be a part of the French club and experience the real culture of France!

DISCOVERY VOYAGE

Attention sea lovers! If you like marine animals and want to experience being an ensign on a ship, I suggest you take this trip with Mr. Foster and his Marine Biology class. They went on Nov. 30th to Palo Alto where a boat and it's crew were waiting for them. They learn a lot at the trip, like identifying fishes, where the fish lives and if it's a prey or a predator. So consider taking this trip, you might catch more than just a fish.

"I'm not touching that!" says Dan Parker.

"Did I just see a mermaid?" asks Stephanie Lau.

Everybody how was the trip?

Girl's tennis is a sport that is built on teamwork, determination, and focus. This year, Washington High School's girl's tennis team built a strong foundation for the sport. When the players were out on that court, you could tell that all of their thoughts were focused on the movement of that little green ball, and that nothing, not even cheering fans nor photographers snapping pictures, would be able to distract them. Their faces always showed a strong determination to win, but even when mistakes were made, other players were always there to keep up the spirits of their teammates, with encouraging words and high fives with their tennis rackets.

Oh yeah! Go Seniors! Good Luck Danae!

"Look how strong I am, Mommy!" exclaims Corrinne Vivora

All and no play for these gymnasts? No way!

It's a bird! It's a plane! No it's Erin Hodson!

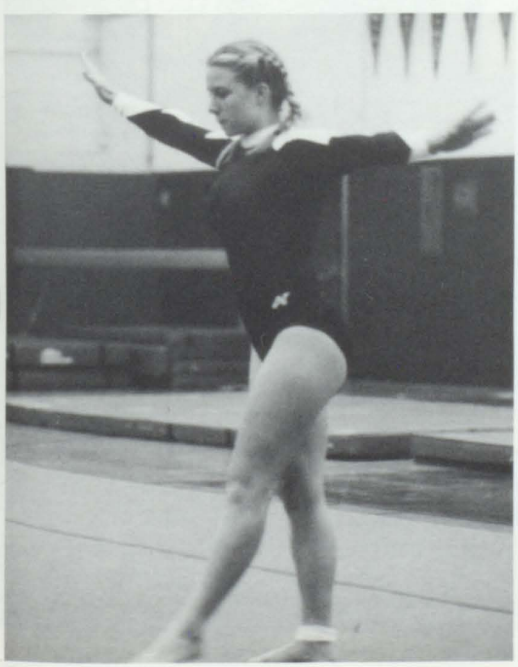

A bundle of smiles for freshman, Emily Jonutz.

Gymnasts just want to have fun!!

This gymnast was graced with the pretty hands! (Stephanie Lau)

Lindsay Fisher's steppin' in groove!

Priscilla Rodrigez shines for the camera.

The season of 1997 gymnastics has certainly been blessed with youthful talent. They have improved the all-around scores for this strong team.
Taking first place in all-around team scores, Junior Varsity had the drive from all these new additions. Having so much new talent, as well as new competitors, this Junior Varsity team will certainly not be forgotten.
The 1997 Varsity Elite Gymnasts were amazing. The talent of S. Berchem, V. Santos, K. Bachelder and M. Guerro kept their competitors on their toes. Their flawless routines and their past experiences has certainly proved that these gymnasts are ready for another strong season. Thanks Ken!!

Jesse Saito intently focuses on catching the ball as it heads toward him in midair.

Jesse Saito aims low to make sure he catches the quick pass.

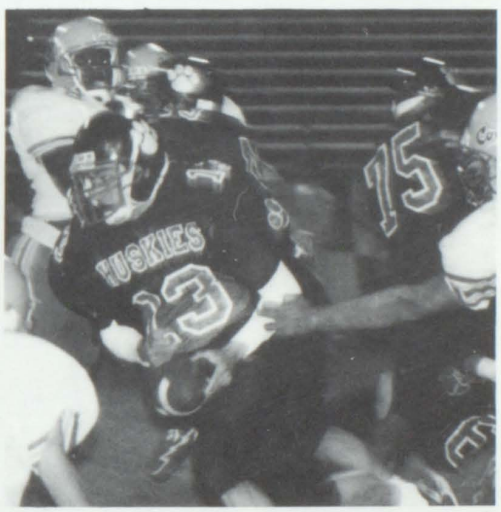

All pumped up the players get ready to have some fun.

The Cougars try to unsuccessfully break through as the Huskies powerfully hold them back.

John Hollingshaus makes a run for the score, tightly holding the ball to avoid dropping it.

The Cougars move in but quickwitted Ryan Beck dodges them before they get him.

The theme for this years football team was "BYA" which stood for "BUST YOUR ASS" which is exactly what the team did. The seniors that led the team this year were a strong and determined group of players. The seniors on the team this year were Keith Carroll, Ryan Beck, Eric Wittmer, Jordan Brock, Brian Arias, Mike Simpson, Jim Brenneis, Jared Muela, Tony Modica, Mark Baker, Nick Jonutz, Matt Beebe, Ken Howe, Joel Tolefree, Biji John, Cory Wilson, Mike Rojas, John Hollingshaus, Jeff Emmitt. These guys did an extraordinary job out on the field this year. Good job guys!

Mike Herrera makes this sorry EAGLE wish he could fly ... right off the mat!

Cory Wilson looks up at his coach to finish telling him about his weekend camping trip while he so casually pins his opponent.

Brandon Shelton is not about to give this particular opponent any chance.

Todd Beck asks his match if he gives up yet because he's kinda bored.

How many times is Jesse Cilliespie gonna have to tell Missions team that there are NO SUMO WRESTLERS allowed! And throw them out?

It was the best of times ... and a few bad times too for our Huskie wrestlers. The team struggled with players and their injuries as well as some Huskies whose hearts weren't all in it and decided not to return, though strongly encouraged to. On the bright side of things, Seniors John Choi and Cory Wilson did an excellent job being captains as well as part-time coaches to the promising new comers to the team. The team grinned and beared through the season, but at the end it was all smiles, pride, and accomplishment for our Huskie wrestlers and another season of experience gone by.

This years J.V. Lady Huskies worked hard and came out on top. They had a great season. Everyone always played their hardest and with intensity. With four freshman and one sophomore starting they were unstoppable. What also made them tough to beat was the reserves always knew when to step up and take charge. They were fortunate enough to have a willing coach, Ken Bohanen, to help them reach a high level of play. They are all promising Varsity players and after each game they only became more prepared. Co-captain Jackie Booth said, "The best part of the season was all the fun they had."

Jim shows us how shot-put is like ballet.

With only 7 returning seniors, the track team had a year of building up young athletes along with some discipline and traditions. Guided by Coach Balano, Nadhmi, Ramin, George, Lori, and Will, the team showed no fear of success. They learned how to do their best, do bumpy the fat old man, play ultimate frisbee, get their energy sucked from the port-a-pit, get into five lines, keep Balano happy, go on a slurpee run, cope with pain, do A skips and B skips, pick your nose pick your pocket and most of all, be a team. With many members of the team suffering from shin splints, the encouragement from not only the coaches, but the other athletes, allowed them to fight pain and continue training. When the team had opportunities to go home and not practice, they declined. It was their goal to become better runners, better throwers, better jumpers ... a better team. Whether it be facing freezing rainy days or burning hot days, the track team overcame these challenges in order to face the challenge of running a sub-65 400 interval. Even if some of these Huskies only make it to MVALS, these athletes deserve a hand for their dedication.

This year, boys swimming suffered a decline in participants with only 11 swimmers comprising both j.v. and varsity teams. There are, however, four new additions to revive the team ... but only two returning seniors, both to varsity. The coaches were also returning members, with Coach Keiper for the varsity boys and Mike Fasolis, who graduated from WHS last year, assisting j.v. Both teams are enthusiastic despite their small numbers and are glad to finally be in the water. They are working very hard, though j.v. might be a bit more reluctant to dive into their pre-swim exercises than varsity. Good luck, guys!

Now that the year is over, the 1997-1998 Rally Squad can take a deep breath and relax. This year the Rally Squad was faced with many obstacles. With a new advisor and only two returning Varsity girls and four returning J.V. girls, the squad of sixteen was practically brand new. Supporting the school teams and keeping school spirit is not only a great honor but a tough job. These girls don't practice for just one season, they practice from June until March. They have to work around practices, games, work schedules and homework; it's a wonder that these girls even have social lives! The Rally Squad did an excellent job this year and although they may think they aren't appreciated, let it be known that they are. GREAT JOB GIRLS!

SENIORS

We have come a long way in our four year adventure here at Washington. We have left our legend! Our spirit was slow in coming but we have blown everyone away with our enthusiasm this year. We have come together from a lot of individual groups to one big entity. As we look back on the fond memories of these exciting years, we can remember our journey from a big class of intimidated freshman, to trying sophomores, on to never-giving-up juniors, and now we are here as triumphant seniors.

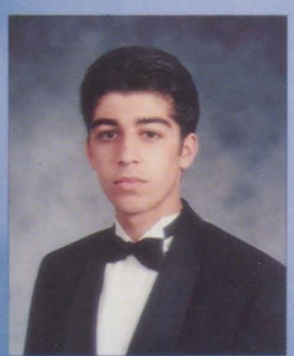

When we gather together at graduation for the last time, may we remember the friends and experiences that have molded our lives. As we explore our bright future let us not forget the values we have found and the lessons we have learned in this adventure. "Looking for the future, often involves recalling the past."

Best wishes and good luck!

"THE SKY IS THE LIMIT..."

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS!

The class of '98 is "Blowin" up the spot at Manteca Water Park. "SMILE"

"Joe, where are your clothes?"

"BUFF BODS" Senior guys flex for the camera.

"Look, it's 3 of our Senior class officers." (Ashley, Carissa, and Soma but don't forget Jenny and Rachel.)

"Hello, my name is April!"

"Too cute to get wet," says SHA-HA-DAH and EB-ON-IQUE.

"Girls just wanna have fun" agrees Shea and Jill.

"Who rocks the house?" Says the Senior class while "chillin" in the shade.

SENIOR PICNIC

SENIOR

Pia Raimundo, Adrian Ang, and Mike Rojas seem entertained by the show.

"I can't believe it's not butter!" exclaims Kathleen Atencio.

Robert McCauley craves the morning entree.

Michelle Pasaoa loses that loving feeling as Jared Muela woos her back.

Jeff Moran, Joe Amaral and Matt Roeber enjoy a healthy meal.

FAVORITES

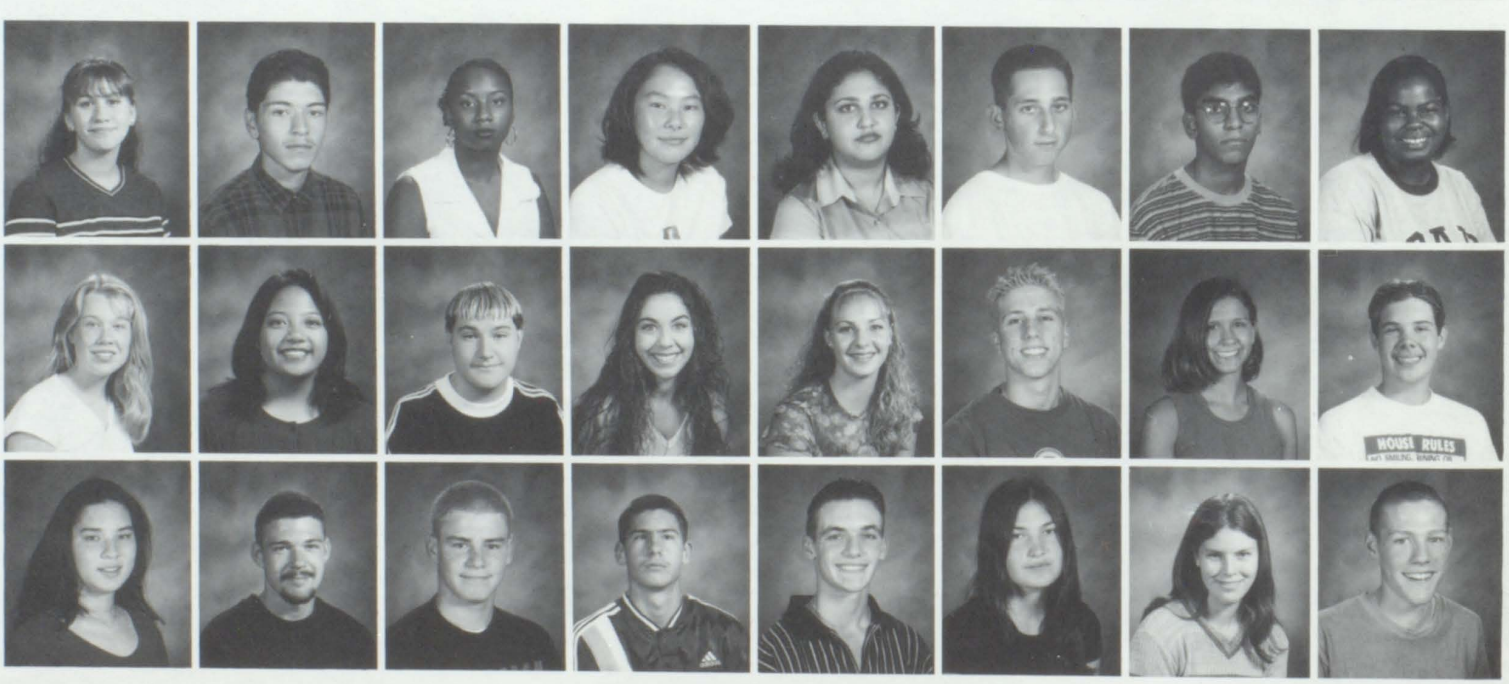

CLASS OF 1999!

Junior class President Diana Cangco, V.P. Sunny Park, Treasurer Christina Chandler, Secretary Alicia Sweeney.

"We are the best kept secret in the universe." We are the last class of the century. We are the Juniors! The class of 1999 proved that they undoubtedly are incredible. Outstanding participation and unified effort during spirit week made Men In Black an awesome skit. Not once did the Juniors fail to out do themselves. Whether it was shaving heads for Toga day or jamming to the old school tunes for 80's day, we rocked it in the rallies. We had no shame when it came to expressing our crazy style and showing just how much spirit we really got. And who could forget Junior Prom? It was the bomb! We were the first class to finally break the tradition of having Junior Prom in the gym. The stress of SAT's and school may not be missed, but through all the good times and bad times, it was all worth it. The Juniors know how to have fun and that's what made Junior year unforgettable. We had a blast and we'll reminisce on the memories we've made. You know it's all about the JUNIORS!!!

CLASS OF 2000!

Sophomore Officers: Treasurer Deanna Jew, President Jenni McLain, Secretary Kimmi Lowe

The new millennium is approaching and I know that we're ready for it, but is it ready for us? Never! Our class will never seize to amaze the rest of the world-we're loud, we're successful, and we're SPIRITED! What else can you ask for?

Spirit week was a breeze (ha, ha), but was filled with plenty of fun and total dedication from the sophomore class. We marched around the halls dozens of times, chanting the popular "Hey Hey, Ho Ho, we're the class of double O!" There are no limitations with what we can do!

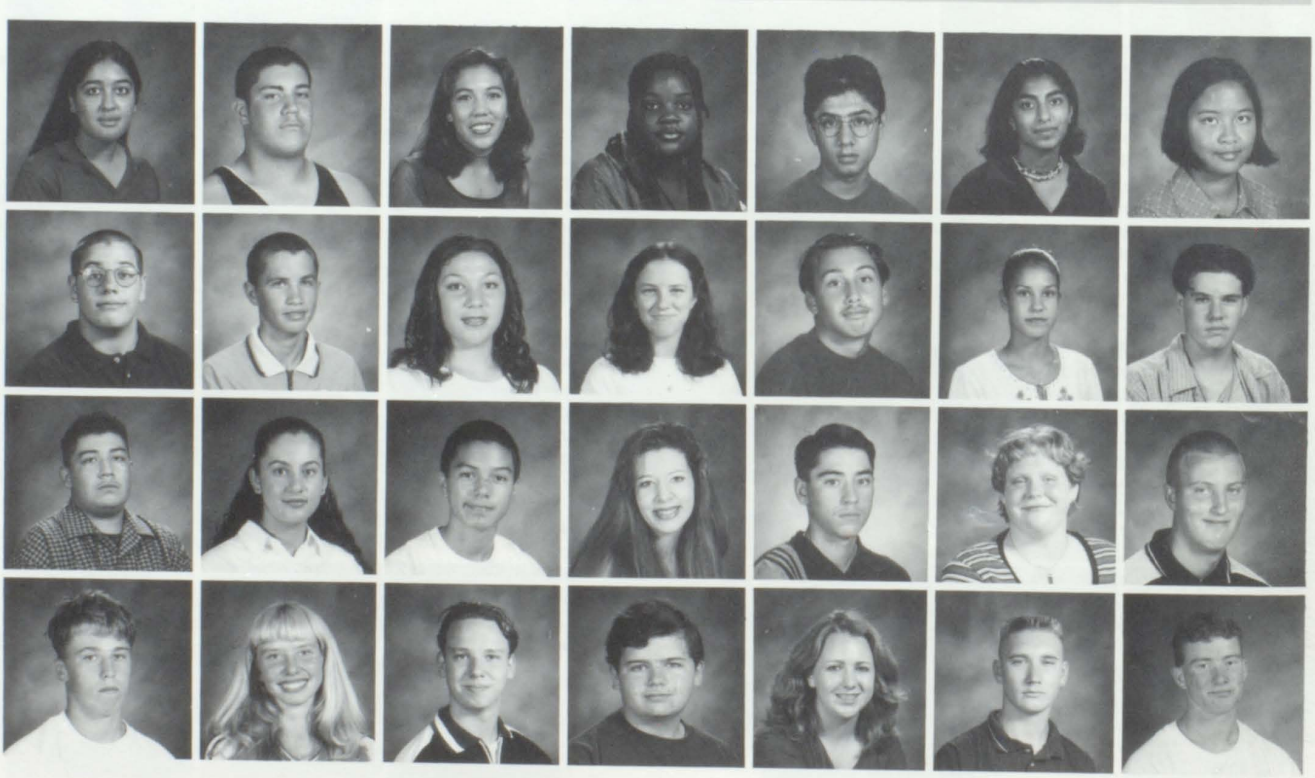

Our unity this year was AWESOME folks-it keeps getting tighter and tighter every year. The chemistry between us is boiling all together, and I cannot wait to see what's in store for us next year. BRING IT ON! Way to go sophomores!

Lara Kellogg, Dana Duge, Ashley Sanchez, and Tonya Glanz having fun at the Homecoming Dance

"Hey, I think I finally get it!" exclaims Christina Richardson

Heidi Gentry, Tonya Glanz and Sarah Greene looking good as they head out to lunch.

"We sure are getting a lot of work done now," thinks Natalie Oboodiyat.

Lindsey Thomas, Samantha Lawerence, and Lindsey Payne taking a break from their busy schedules to smile for the camera.

Lara Lineback wonders if anyone around her has showered lately.

FRESHMEN OF 2001

This past year was an amazing year. We had a lot of fun organizing the past activities. In the beginning of the year we had a hard time with spirit week, but we managed to have our skit "Gilligan's Island." We're all very proud of our class on our victory of 3rd place during spirit week. Our fund raisers were a success. We brought in a fair amount of money which linked in with our dance. Our dance was on February 14, 1998, Valentine's day, and was lots of fun. I'm glad everyone had a good time and enjoyed themselves. This year class of 2001 had a lot of spirit. Keep it up!!!

Watching this book being created throughout the eight months of school was amazing. To me it was like a quilt, piece by piece, being created. With the staff's own imagination and creativity, each page of the book told a different story of the school's events and history. Like a quilt, the pieces didn't come together at one time. Deadline by deadline, the staff created a portion of the quilt with its own personality to be added in. At the end, the pieces came together and produced a book that's full of pride, hard work and dedication. This quilt of memories could not have been possible without the help of the yearbook staff. It was their devotion that wove the yarn intricately and produced you the book you hold today.

Mark Mekaru ... what can I say? I guess you and I are both speechless. We have gone through a lot this past year. Educating ourselves about layouts and yearbook terms, I thought we would never make it this far. But hey, WE MADE IT!! I can never thank you enough for your encouragements and all your creativity that went into this book ... THANKS FROM THE BOTTOM OF MY HEART AND GOOD LUCK IN THE FUTURE. Maryam ... thank you for all the help you gave me. Thanks for staying in there when times got a little stressful. I hope that being part of making this story was a memorable one. To the rest of the staff ... Kristie, Mark B., Johnny, Carissa, Shahada, Rommel, Angel, Gina, Marissa, Kinjal, Lauren, Stephanie, Jessica R., Jennifer, Stacie, April, George, Melanie, Melissa, Jessica L., Maryrose, Christina, Annie, and Aimee ... thanks so much for shaping and molding the contour of this quilt and filling it with each of your personalities to make it as unique as it is. HERE IS WHAT YOU PUT ALL YOUR HARD WORK INTO AND MAY I SAY THAT IT TURNED OUT BEAUTIFUL!

To Mr. Brower ... I don't know where to begin. I came into this job unexperienced and look what I have learned from this at the end. Thanks for having faith in me and teaching me all that you knew. Your guiding light was always there when I was lost in the dark. I hope you spend the years to follow relaxing ... go visit my homeland ... MARAMING SALAMAT PO!

Mr. Mangini ... many, many thanks for your trust and for your encouraging words when I needed them. Thanks for caring and giving me this opportunity. The challenge you put forth was why I did this.

To Mrs. Jung, Mrs. Wall, Mrs. Reck, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Kyono, and to all the rest of the staff and faculty ... I deeply appreciate all your help with the yearbook. Thanks for helping us identify nameless faces and making us countless lists. MR. KOSKI ... THANKS FOR THE USAGE OF THE SPORTS TEAM PICTURES!

Dan Reynolds ... thank you for dealing with our last minute picture taking at the studio when we were missing their pictures, the film and developing, and helping us out with picture taking at other events. Lastly, thanks to Jostens and Phyllis Davison for everything.

To my friends, thanks for dealing with my busy schedule. Jewelyn, you did a wonderful job typing. To my brother, Ryan, thanks for helping me check layouts when they seem to pile up on me. To Dokie ... thanks for helping me out emotionally. If I didn't pour out all my stress to you, then I would be a wreck right now. You may never know how much you helped when you listened with an open ear and reassured me that everything was going to be fine. Even "El Nino" couldn't stop the ray of sunshine that you gave me on my most cloudiest days.

Most importantly, thank you my fellow HUSKIES for giving us a reason to create, design, and weave together a part of history that you can always look back upon as you embark on to the future. Remember, it is "Breaking Ground" that builds a strong foundation, paints memories, builds blocks, and sets up the supports. MANY THANKS, AGAIN!!! ..... DIANA CANGCO

Disclaimer: If any contents of this book is found offensive, the yearbook staff offers its deepest apologies.

Dear Washington, I must say that it has been fun preserving your memory, not to mention stressful. I would like to thank all the members of the WHS yearbook staff. Diana, what can we say? We both never touched a layout sheet, but look what we did! Thank you for putting up with me. Maryam, thanx for helping us out. We wouldn't have made it without you. Lauren and Christina, thanx for doing extra work. You guys really eased my stress level with your conversations. Rommel, thanx for bugging you-know-who about the layouts and for doing all the weird jobs we needed to get done. April, thanx for losing sleep for us! Mark, Jessica, Aimee, Melissa, Shahadah, Jessica, Maryrose, Kinjal, Angel, Melanie, Carissa, Jennifer, GP, Gina, Johnny, Stephanie, Stacie, Marissa, and Kristie, thanx for your hard work and dealing with our unexperience. LOOK! We've made the yearbook! (NOTE: if u want to complain abut the yearbook, it's the people mentioned above who did it ..... but if you have compliments ... well, my name is Mark and I am the one who is in this picture ...) Thanx Cindy for your wonderful headlines, sorry I messed up your computer. Thank you to all the teachers for letting us "quietly" interrupt classes for pictures, identification, and a million other things I'm sure. Thanks Mrs. Wall, Mrs. Wright, and Mrs. Reck for the thousands of lists that you gave us. Thanks Mrs. Wilson for letting us use the phone and your journalism students as resources. Thank you Washington for giving us a new office! complete with leather couch. (But where's the TV?) Thank you Daniel Reynolds for the millions of pictures you developed. Craig, thanx for taking those pictures that saved our bums. Thank you Jostens for not only making our book, but making our job easier. Thank you Mr. Brower .... there's another page for you. And most of all, thank you WHS and its students. We did this for you so that you could always be remembered. Memories of the good times and bad times will never be forgotten as your friends sign your book. One day, when you feel like reminiscing of your high school days, hopefully you'll pull out your yearbook and say, "Wow! Mark did a fine job!" OK so you won't say that, but let me thank you again for giving me the opportunity to preserve a memory; to create a book that will help you with names the night before your ten year reunion; and to give you something that allows you to write your final goodbyes and good lucks before you go off in your separate directions. Good Luck next year Diana! Hopefully this year has been educational for you and perhaps next year won't be as stressful. (Maybe yearbook camp won't have jail cells) Well, Goodbye and good luck everyone. Sorry for any material that may be offensive or any pages that may be visually offensive ... but hey, we were unexperienced ..... MARK

All I can think about is that it is finally over. All done! No, I'm not talking about the new school, I'm talking about the yearbook. The school is important too, but the yearbook was harder, for me. As Co-Editor of the 1998 Washingtonian I would like to express many thanks to all those people who helped me through to the end.

First, I would like to greatly thank Mr. Brower for all his patience and cooperation with me. For all the extra time spent with me doing the "ADS" because I couldn't do it on my own. I'll never forget the wise words of advice which I will carry with me forever. Thank you so much for putting up with me on all the day's I came to class complaining and ready to leave in tears. I'll never forget all the help and support you gave me these past two years. P.S. Thanks for the grade change.

To Mark and Diana who were always there giving me their support and advice when I needed it most. You guys have done an outstanding job. Thank you for being so understanding all the times I got stuck, or slept in on weekends when I was supposed to be in class. I would like to also thank our staff who also did great and put up with me. Rommel, Jennifer, Shahada, Carissa, Marissa, April (NOSTRILS), Gina, Jessica R., Jessica L., Melissa, George, Stephanie, Angel, Johnny, Mark, Lauren, Maryrose, Kristie, Kinjal, Stacie, Melanie, and Christina. We couldn't have done it without you guys. To all the Student Body and faculty of W.H.S. for putting up with our disruptions during class. Mr. Mangini and Mrs. Jung for all your cooperation and positive support. As a class we pulled together to fit the pieces of the book together just as our school was constructed. We couldn't have possibly made it without each others help. Despite the frustration it was a great learning experience for me. All the work I did was minor in comparison to what Mark and Diana had to deal with and I am grateful for that. I don't think I would've been able to take on all that they accomplished. One last thing before I go. Mr. Brower, I thank you very much for having the faith in me and giving me the opportunity to be an Editor. I have come a long way on a road full of twists and turns but, with the confidence and support of you Mark, and Diana I survived.

Congratulations to the class of 1998!
Maryam Haider

SENIOR QUOTES

where shall i begin? so much 2 say & so little space, i cannot express my appreciation 4 all that u guys have done 4 me. lauren, from the time we met in chemistry complaining about the computer screens 2 simplest of the simple 2 magnaduster 2 your acceptance of me, i have 2 say that u always understood me, even when i didn't make sense. cindy, u must have one & a half brain 2 be able 2 turn my words into a diss, but nevertheless u have got 2 be one of the best, always sensing my ups and downs, robert ... what can I say 'buddy', where does your vocabulary extend 2? i guess we did break the habit of y-ass. how's your father? or shall i say-----? what ever happened to stickbutt? biji biji biji, sigh hopefully @ our ten year reunion we won't be garbage men or janitors. u still remember your deodorant in 9th grade? i didn't take it! i promise thanx shamu. clarisse, crease, keri, im actually serious rite now! yea rite i have 2 many things 2 say 2 u so ill just sign it your yearbook. (crawl up in a ball, bird poop, action!) i have to say that u guys were my first best friends. kendahlio, who will i headbutt/rub? kathleen, who will i bite? (rasputin is evil) emi, stay away from my shoes! jordan, sweater and corduroys! JB we have to go get sums once more. and most of all thank u mom dad and kay, i love u even tho i may not express it at times, thank u for always being there.

KELLY HADLOCK

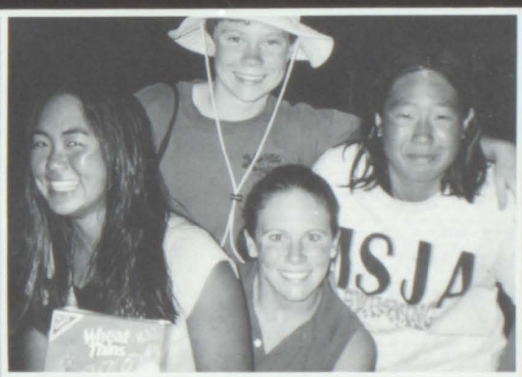

C/O 98-We're finally outta Here! I missed you all Jr. Year but Im back. Jill I love you lots, you are my best friend. Your always there for me. Amber do you wanna go to BK to get an older man or maybe just run into fire engines? Ry you are the best! We have had our Ups+Downs but I still love you. Have fun the next 2 yrs w/o me. Hey Grivois + Orozco wanna get chased by security guards? Cheer was an experience for the last 2 yrs, but this yr it was really bad. Heather, I love ya, don't forget scudle+chuckle! Huh? Bro (farley) good luck! Its hard, Just hang in there. Mandy one nut is so pathetic! Don't make another mistake like that, but its all about 90210 girls! good luck C/O 98! Kel-Kel (Blondie) april I spelled it!!

Senior year is over and I will remember all to the good times. First I want to say thanks to Michelle C. for introducing me to Marc. I Love him very much. Penny, I will always remember you and how you made me laugh and our spot at lunch. Tiffany, I will remember when we swam together in PE in the freezing pool. Emi, you have been a great friend. I will also remember when I went to NCS and swam in a relay final. Thanks to everybody who encouraged me at MVAL's. Boogie boarding was a blast with my best friends-Dina, Ryann, Nina, Dior and Jessica. Don't forget than when we're older we're going to get together and boogie board. Last but not least, Marc, you are my world! You are my first true love and I know we'll be together forever-Amber S.

JEN & JULIE

Hey whats up 87 we have been through——and back again. T.Y. for always being there for me. We have endured a lot through the 4 yrs we have been here. I will never forget the times we have had together. Since Frosh yr. You have always been there for me even when we where going to "Duke" it out in Mr. Jones class. Don't forget I will always be there for you Love, Sewels CoCoNut we got to stop singing on tapes. You with a Lovely Bunch of CoCoNuts and me with Where's Your Boots been Under. Trust me I got the twing in that song. No more French Bread in the car when it's raining, our do 360's ok and rember it "All Depends on You" No more burning garlic bread ok. I'm going to miss you a lot love Reba Dopey do Grumpy a favor lay off the morphine, just a little. And stay off my Connor. j/k We have endured a lot Dopey but I will always remain your friend. Love Grumpy. Hey Toe ring! Aka Captain Kimi, I will never forget how we counciled each other in computers and all the assignments, hacked off the computer to pass. Don't forget "Yoda." Good luck in the future. Love Baywatch Sandle. To Tony, we have shared so much the past year. Let's recap when you made me walk up Powell ST. walking 100 miles per hour. And rember Frosh yr how we had Mrs. Prizedoff and Mr. Avallone and how we use to make fun with Sign language. T.Y. for always being there for me. Love always your Friend Julie. Hey Whats up 96 Don't forget D.L. and how much fun we had jumping on the bed and hitting the ceiling to the bug the People above us. Oh yea that wonderful picture of you, me, mark, Jen, Tony picture in Clumbia. Don't forget I will always be there. Trust Me. Love INSTIGATOR! Good luck to everyone!

I remember all the time we've shared all the fun and all the laughs. Soon we will be splitting up, but we're choosing our own paths. Some of us will go far away, and some will stay close, but we'll cherish all our memories and that's what we'll miss most. I can't believe it's almost done, I can't believe were there. We're one step away from finishing, to take that challenge if we dare. We've made so many friendships and have lost some along the way. It has all gone by so fast, that I don't known what to say. To shorty yes I miss you, but we have grown so much. We've moved on to other friends and we've gotten out of touch. To Jewels, Now don't worry, we won't be too far. We won't be that distance cause the conditions of our cars. You have always been there, for me to share my tears through all the good and bad times that I've had throughout the years. I'll always remember you and the "living" that we've done. All the different things we've tried, All the laughs and all the fun. I never would have made it through this year without you there. To listen and support me, to show how much you care. To blondie, It has been so fun, we've been friends for so long. Sometimes we have done things right, but then there's been some wrongs. I know we've had some problems, but we've made it to the end. And for that I won't forget you, you'll always be my friend. To pinky I have missed you since we went our separate way. You were so very dear to me and I don't know what to say. I know that I have done you wrong and somehow broke your heart, but I loved you as my best friend and you knew that from the start. I miss all the times we shared and the friendship that we had. Im so very sorry that things turned out so bad. Billy, I believe in you, so much that I could die, I think you've forgotten "I believe YOU can fly." You may appear to be glad, at all the things that's done; but learn to forgive the wrongs and stop trying to run. (love your brain) Hey Goofy I will miss you all the best of Luck from now until the end. To Maryam, I luv ya, your oh so dear to me. You could always make me laugh, so much I couldn't see. You were always there to listen, to smile everyday. "Poor Crosby Cal Keiper." is all I have to say. To Jacob, my sweetie, whom I love with all my heart. We've shared something very special, that was known right from the start. You made me see my life in a new and different way. You've made me so much stronger, the way I am today. I will never forget you or all that we've been through. The fishing and the movies, all the time I've spent with you. I cannot express in words, what you meant to me. But somewhere deep in your heart I think that you can see. (Always and forever yours, 87) To my parents I love you, you're the greatest, Hang in there I'll be home soon. Jennifer Marrow

How does it feel seniors? TP my bestest friend in the whole world I couldn't of done it without you. Jared, 12 years going on 13. was it as good for you as it was for me. Let's go to the Quaries! E Rock Let's just hang at Centerville for awhile. Powderpuff 98' we kick---! Bye Curly Q

To all my friends in the student center: you guys were weird, but I guess that's why I fit in so well there. Though you were weird, you were always cool to me. Especially John (Mike) I am so glad we became such good friends. Of course, I know it's because you had nothing better to do. Wow, it's cold, you YOU wouldn't know. And Marshmallow, I don't really hate you, you're just fun to pick on. Still, I'm sorry. And to Dan, I leave my couch, even thought I'm sure you'll have others fighting over it. Last thing, be sure you guys talk, because with me gone it's going to be real quiet. Sara Kristen Kenison

I don't feel ready to graduate. Party because caps and gowns are so tacky, partly because I'll miss high school. But our years are at an end, and it's time to move on to bigger and better things. I'm looking forward to my future in fashion. I wish each and everyone of you successful careers so you'll be able to afford my clothes. I know that fame and wealth are in my future. So what if I never had a 4.0 GPA or I never understood Chemistry. I belong at Stanford mall, not at Stanford University. And so, class of '98. I leave you with the following advice: "Never dress down just because no one else will dress up." (GQ Magazine) Carlos Silva

Coming from a private school, it took me a while 2 warm up 2 U, but once I got 2 know U, U turned out 2 B a cool bunch. Now I say that "Parting is such sweet sorrow!" Thanks 4 your friendship, the fun times @ lunch, (U known who U R), & being guinea pigs when I felt like making an abundance of cookies. Whether I own a restaurant or a catering business, I expect 2 see your faces more than I do everyday here @ WHS. As U live your lives & pursue your dreams, make sure U consider the greatest relationship U could ever had: knowing Jesus Christ as your Lord & Savior. He makes life worth living. I couldn't have gotten through WHS w/o Him. Thanx 2 my friends (I can't name U all), my mummy & daddy, Alexander (surf on!),, Richie Rich (my future fashion designer), and my booboos (Sir John Calvin Joe Cool). C/O 98 Times flew, now what are we going to do??? LA, Bonnie Dunes, HANETOWN, (MID's) Morrison Canyon. Well all in all these last 4 years have gone from "standin to strollin." It's been tough but CHUMP DESIGNS keep parting hard and strollin strong. Thanks Bologna Boy, FattyCakes, Brent, Johnny Helmer, TJ, Joe A, P40 "triple bubble." For all your help. Go have another Corona or Z!! Somehow we've made it. Tony how about MISSION, it SUCKED!!! Tijiauna party!!! are we 21 yet. Pack the WAGON S.C.'s DISCO. Hoppen the Burrito-Burner over intersections, or Boxing in LEGGY-POP. Later Jocks it's been fun! We can't forget "KLIENS" longislands, the Moore and the killer "so-called" BBQ's. Hey Wooderson and Butch! thanks for all your help and support. Just a word to the Stores in H-B, Stock your shelves with some SNAPPS. Later to All, "WHEELS!" Nick Pappas

To all my friends: Kimi: I miss you so much: Mary and Amber: EMC508, you guys are twins. Ry-Ry you up for a game of bumper cars? You're the target! Kelly: Can I have your autograph? Elisa & Jacquelyn: Beat the pressure for any man of mine. Have you done any drive by eggings lately? To my best friend, Shannon: Let's go to the 'mo. Backyard tent, swimming pool or shower. Thanks for always being there. I LOVE U. Lips: Gotta love big ears. Let's fly "west" this summer. Safeway sucks, hairy bores. Saveege: Big truck, white pants, minors, huh?? Big fat sweaty hairy bore. K80: Where'd Katy go? It's time for the Beanie Baby show. Rachel, Jenny, and Lauren: It's been real. I LOVE U guys. Christie: Let's go to Ranch 99 and have some slurpee's at the football games. Mandy: I have the power. Don't you forget that. I LOVE U. DECA: WGP, Check out those Castro Valley boys. Ryan: I miss you. Love Megan

I want to take a minute to reminisce all the good times that some might have missed. Kimi, the frydays we stayed up laughing. Erin, those nights when we were "just walking". Fun nights when we were at Megans. Almond: The Matures? Both pretty sick: SAABs & T-Birds! She-ah, I love u. Bonny Dune Nights still aren't through. The Wu-Tang & 3 will always live on! k8 Dawg (don't forget) u r the bomb. BC's & CPA will never die. Late nights at Lion's, Wendy don't cry. John you're obise, Matt you're fat too. Hoot-tang w/out u, don't don't know what I'd do. Night Cookie: 911. Both years of cheer: boy that was fun! Oh yeah, just one more thing. Scientific method: what does that mean? All of you mentioned and some I forgot, when we kicked it & the few times we fought, Thanks for all these unforgettable memories. U now will hold a forever, special place in my heart. I hope we will never eternally part. Jill Klug

"I love Kid Funky Fly, Suti & Jeff, Emi, Kathleeny, Patty, Mmmm! Dear Amber, Graduation! Congratulations!! We wish you happiness, wisdom, strength, and good health as you embark on your new life adventures. Continue to enjoy special moments with family and friends. Smile often. Tell those you love that you do. Forget trouble. Forgive an enemy. Hope. Grow. Be crazy. Observe miracles. Make them happen. Give. Give in. Trust enough to take. Pick some flowers. Share them. Keep a promise. Look for rainbows. Gaze at stars. Dream. Set goals. Work hard. Achieve. Be wise. Try to understand. Take time for people. Make time for yourself. Laugh. Spread joy. Reach out. Let someone in. Try something new. Take a risk. Believe in yourself. Trust others. Reminisce. Cry if you need to. Comfort a friend. Make some mistakes. Learn from them. Celebrate your accomplishments. We are proud of you. Love, Mom, Dad, & Brandon

Wasn't that weekend fun?

Well, the end of the year is here,
And some of you are shedding tears.
Let me just say that I'm not sad,
I'm sorry, I'm not, so don't be mad.
I've had lots of fun & have had great memories,
But it's time to move on & start new beginnings.
GINA: Like what? Like we own the dang place!
SEAN: Be sure to keep soup off your face.
JILL: Remember to keep your eyes open when you laugh.
JENNY H: !$ 14 years it's been from present to past.
SUSAN: It's not the Navy, but the Air Force!
KELLY H: Hi Blodie! & Hay is for horses!
KEN: KENNY! Mr. Z's funny noises?
HADAH: Member camp when we both lost our voices?
ROEBER: I LOVE YOU! & LINA: We're here!
JAIME: Make that accent a long-life career.
ANGELA: My bwother Cwisopher went potty at the paarty!
KATRINA: The swings! Dang, I think we are snotty!
JAY: What's wrong?! Your calves?! What, they hurt?!
RYAN: Gosh darn it, you got chicken on my shirt!
JEREMY & SCOTT M: What about what up your what?!
MATT B: I don't know what to say except for ... my love.
I say thanx to you all for being great friends,
But I'm sorry to say that this is the end.
It's time to move on & start a new life,
So to the c/o '98, I say GOODLUCK & GOODBYE! April N.

Sara Kenison,
Hooray, no more 6am "get up NOW, Sara" calls. There is no doubt you'll be successful in everything you choose to do.

To Atlat#1@emily.grad

You are a true friend and great source of pride to your family. May the future be worthy of you. Keep drumming joyously around life's campfires.

Love Mom and Dad and Daniel

Congratulations Ryan Grivois,

You've worked hard to get this far and we are very proud of you. We will continue to give our love and support through college. Here's to the future!

Love,
Mom, Dad and Beree

Dearest Nicholas, AKA CHUMP,

Life is a journey, with unexpected valleys and mountains, every experience in life shapes who we are-Nick you have experienced more in life than most ever will. You have the potential to achieve anything in life you set your mind to! With God's blessings may all your dreams come true.

We couldn't be any prouder & love you so much.

Dad, Mom, Alicia & Michele

"Hi my name is NOSTRILS NAUSIN." SORRY I MEANT APRIL!

GOOD BYE!

This book has been dedicated to James Frederick Brower for it will be his last yearbook. As a student, I have realized that Mr. Brower not only dedicated his time to teach students between right from wrong, but also to educate them about life in general and allow them to choose their own paths to follow. There were lessons to be learned from everything he said. It was just the matter of listening and understanding it. Students from the past remembered these simple morals he instilled in their minds. Whether it was the difference between the "ash heaps and the valley of ashes" from Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby, or a deer pondering to jump the fence and really being a symbol for the Civil War, he has taught the students probably in more ways than he expected. So, before Mr. Brower goes on to say goodbye to Washington, I would like to thank him on behalf of the staff, faculty, and students for the wisdom he has given us and the faith he has ignited in all of us. THANK YOU!

Mr. James Frederick Brower was born in West Alexandria, Ohio and married Belen Jimenez. Together, they raised their two children, Jennifer and Kimberly. He received his BA in English and PE in 1962 at Wilmington College. He then went to California State University, Hayward, and took English, American Lit. and Mythology courses. At San Francisco State University, he enrolled in ESL classes and then moved on to the University of Phoenix to finish his education.

He started his career as a Student Teacher at Blanchester High School in Ohio in 1961-1962. Between 1962-1966, Mr. Brower taught as an English and Drama Teacher at Pleasant View High School. Then, he moved to the Philippine Islands where he coached track and soccer in 1966-1969 at Wagner High School in the Clar Air Force Base. Here he taught Creative Writing and English from 1967-1969. From 1970, Mr. Brower has been teaching here at Washington High School as an English teacher and Yearbook advisor.

Special thanks to Mrs. Belen Brower for the information she provided and Who's Who Among America's Teachers: the Best Teachers in America Selected by the Best Students 2nd Edition Volume II-1992.

Mr. Fred Brower is ending a long, successful 23 year career as Washington High School's yearbook advisor. The wisdom, expertise, humor and support he has shared with our yearbook staffs has been very special. He has guided and advised students to produce outstanding publications which reflect the personalities of the students, staffs, and accurate records of the history and uniqueness of each school year at Washington. As a former yearbook advisor I know it is one of the most difficult teaching/advisor/coaching positions of any kind at a high school. Mr. Brower has made it look easy. Our challenge will be to continue producing rich, creative histories of some of the most important days of our lives. Mr. Brower, you have left us a very high standard of excellence to uphold. On behalf of the thousands of students and staff members who will have 23 years of rich Washington High School history forever available on their bookshelves; thank you Fred.

Mike Martin,
Principal

sniffle, tear, sniffle, tear...

As another school year comes to an end, the seniors prepare their future plans while the other students look forward to the hot summer season. With all the excitement in the air, we sometimes forget to say our good-byes to our favorite teachers before we move on to the next school year. Washington High School's staff also looks forward to a peaceful summer before preparing their curriculum for the following year. Unfortunately, there are twelve staff members that are not planning to come back to Washington. Mrs. Chu, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Elliot, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Heibert, Mr. Ingram, Mr. Lightfoot, Mr. Mcnatt, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Robison, and Mr. Wheeler will be leaving their grade books on their desks after this year is over. On behalf of the faculty and students, we wish the retiring staff members much luck in the future. We thank you for all the things you have taught us, and most importantly, the inspiration you have showed us all. Best wishes and take care ...
